SimpleChurch CRM

SimpleChurch is the name of our new, Church Management System. It's the software we use in both Offices to keep track of ALL of our church records, replacing Shepherd's Staff. We've been busy inputting and updating records after the Joint Council approved this more cost-efficient program. Just SOME of its helpful features include:

- Logging Interactions: lets us jot down when we've called or visited a church member
- Easy and visually-astute accounting system assists our Financial Team with Offerings
- Mass Contact feature gives us options when it comes to reaching out to Congregants.

Email

Text Message (SMS)

Voice Message

Speaking of Mass Contact...we now have 3 ways to quickly and efficiently reach out to you:

By EMAIL: This will be an easy way to send electronic Newsletters, notices of immediate prayer needs, and/or information about Bible Studies and classes. This method even allows us to attach files such as photos or documents.

By TEXT: We'll use this method when we need to send you a very short message in a very quick amount of time. As far as we can tell, the number used by SimpleChurch is: 22383. Go ahead and ADD it as one of your CONTACTS, so you'll know it's US the next time we text.

By VOICE: Perhaps you received a recorded phone call from a 1-866 number in late December. (Pr. Brenda was testing out the system, and recorded a message about Christmas Services.). We're letting you know the actual number that is most frequently used by the company, as we don't want you to let it go to voicemail (thinking it might have been one of those annoying telemarketers). 1-866-665-4386 seems to be the number that is generated and used by SimpleChurch. Again, we'd suggest ADDING it as one of your CONTACTS, so you'll know it's US the next time we call.

THANK YOU for your patience and grace as we explore new ways to use SimpleChurch!

STEWARDSHIP + FORTUNE LAKE UPDATES

Dear Congregation,

As most of you know, Gethsemane has an active, on-going community mission to help anyone who might need transportation assistance to important, life-management appointments. These sorts of needs fall under the purview of what is known as our Social Ministry Team.

Travel to appointments is often taken for granted. Imagine for a minute, not being able to make or keep an appointment, simply because there is no extra money in the budget to purchase fuel to travel to town.

Our program provides a gas voucher, made out to the individual, and is only redeemable for the amount issued, and only works at a specific gas station. While a typical voucher is around $20, the amount of assistance varies depending, among other considerations, on how far away the individual must travel for an essential appointment, Thankfully, we have successfully managed to fund this program since its inception in 2013. The time has come to let you know that our funding has gone dry: we've reached a point where we need to ask that you prayerfully consider giving an offering specifically to the Social Ministry Fund. May we continue to bless others.

Peace to you all,

Wendy Hanson, Congregation President, Social Ministry Team

Pastoral Musings

by Rev. Brenda Greenwald

Dear Church,

I was recently gifted the sweetest, little Nativity you ever did see. Measuring just over an inch and a half tall, this little Mary, Joseph, and Baby Jesus was crafted using a technique called “quilling” (No, not quilting...not THIS time, at least!). Quilling is the art of tightly-wrapping tiny, colorful pieces of paper in order to form a bigger picture. (I have a quilled cross in my office at Gethsemane if you'd ever like to see the technique close-up.). In this case, the little circles of paper were shaped into the base, the manger, and the bodies of the Holy Family. This hand-made Nativity was a precious reminder of that night so long ago, and a gift I will forever treasure.

Treasure....what do we really treasure in our lives? We treasure our health – thankful when it's good, and mourned when it's lost. We treasure time spent with loved ones, be they near or far away. We might even treasure food, not only for its tasty, nutritional value, but for its ability to bring us together. Ask a 4-year-old what he treasures, and well, I guarantee you it's going to have something to do with dinosaurs or trucks!

What was it that Mary treasured, that holiest of nights, when she could finally rest from childbirth? ¹⁹“But Mary treasured all these words and pondered them in her heart.” Mary treasured the words, the excitement, the confirmation, really, that her Son was THE One the world had been awaiting. What parent doesn't want to hear glowing things about their child, much less heavenly prophecies about a Savior?! Truth be told, Mary didn't really need to wait for an excitable tale from Shepherds, or revel in the incredible news from heavenly angels to know what, or rather WHOM, she would treasure: she would treasure the tiny infant that lay before her. She would treasure the hope found in this little soul. She would treasure her role in this Divine mystery, this true, miracle of life, the Word made flesh.

Ponder your treasures, dear Church. Ponder YOUR roles, ponder YOUR hopes, as the beautiful story from long ago has not yet concluded. The Life and Love that was brought forth upon this earth some 2022 years ago is a life-force that can fill YOUR hearts with beautiful things, and that is certainly something wonderful to ponder.

Pondering with you,

Fr. Brenda

NOTE: The December 16, 2021
Council Meeting was cancelled due to Weather / Power Outages.

"Come now, let us reason together, says the Lord: though your sins are like scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they are red like crimson, they shall become like wool." Isaiah 1:18

Many thanks to all who helped keep our parking lot plowed, our entryways shoveled, and our sidewalks ice-free!

THE CROSS IS THE TRUE GIFT OF CHRISTMAS

A REFLECTION BY ELCA PRESIDING BISHOP ELIZABETH EATON

I remember this jarring image: It was the Christmas Eve candlelight service at my home congregation. A banner depicting Mary and Jesus in the manger had been hung from the ceiling at the front of the nave completely obscuring the large suspended cross. I had seen that banner on Sunday mornings, but on this Christmas Eve in the semidarkness something else appeared. A spotlight that illumined the cross now shown on the banner with the effect of making the outline of the cross appear as the background of the Christmas scene.

The cross on Christmas? I didn't want the crucified Christ casting a shadow on the Christ child. Christmas is about angels and shepherds and the babe, lying in a manger, not betrayal and death. I didn't like it. Christmas can be such a fraught season. It is forced to carry so much emotional freight. We must be merry. We must be filled with good cheer. We must be home surrounded by family. We must turn our lives into the happy endings of every TV Christmas special. There is a certain driven-ness to get everything done, to get everything perfect by the stroke of midnight on Dec. 24. Secular culture reflects this. A Christmas Carol and How the Grinch Stole Christmas are stories of redemption. The song "I'll Be Home for Christmas" and the film Home Alone are filled with wistful longing. I remember a M*A*S*H episode where the doctors in the operating room turned the clock back to 11:59 p.m. on the 24th so a young soldier's death wouldn't be recorded on Christmas.

But what are we longing for? Certainly, we want peace in our homes and in the world. We want love and a place to belong. We want life and the end of all the deadly things in the world that bring death and destruction. We want reconciliation. We want rest. We want hope. We want the assurance that all of this means something. We want to know that someone cares. And so, we try to accomplish all of those things and squeeze it all into the weeks between Thanksgiving and Christmas Day. No wonder we can find ourselves exhausted and empty on Dec. 26. The mall scene the day after Christmas—returning broken toys and ill-fitting or unwanted sweaters, the picked-over look of marked down Christmas decorations and wrapping paper—is the retail version of the reality of a broken world that doesn't know peace or love or hope. Except

The hope of Christmas is fulfilled on Good Friday. The cross is part of Christmas. "Nails, spear shall pierce him through, the cross be borne for me, for you; hail, hail the Word made flesh, the babe, the son of Mary" (Evangelical Lutheran Worship, 296). All of our Christmas glorias are realized in Jesus' glorification on the cross. We have peace. We have hope. We are loved. And not just at Christmas.

The cross is the Christmas gift. Through it, God reconciles and heals. Through it, God's love is made known and in God's love we are known and have our home. And it is a gift. We don't have to spend our energy and time hoping to attract the gift or the Giver by making everything right by Christmas. If we aren't physically at home, if our lives have not turned into the happy endings of TV Christmas specials, if we are estranged from family, if we are not merry, even if we should die, this gift of life has come to us.

Let's be gentle with ourselves and each other this Advent and Christmas. Let's not fret about imperfect lives and incomplete holiday preparations. We won't ever get it completely right. That's God's work. It is the best gift exchange ever. Martin Luther wrote: "Is not this a beautiful, glorious exchange, by which Christ, who is wholly innocent and holy, not only takes upon himself another's sin, that is, my sin and guilt, but also clothes and adorns me, who am nothing but sin, with his own innocence and purity? And then besides dies the shameful death of the cross for my sake ... that I may live with him eternally" (Luther's Works, Vol. 51).
